

Associate's Degree in Leadership Studies

A Leadership Studies Degree prepares graduates to identify and take strategic action to achieve personal, team, and organizational effectiveness across corporate, nonprofit, and public sectors.

- A degree in Leadership is similar to Business Administration, placing emphasis on setting a vision and managing people to achieve that vision rather than on accounting and managing finances.
- Leadership graduates gain the 21st century skill set necessary for success in supervisory and management positions.
- Leadership graduates practice skills like communications, critical and analytical thinking, team management, and decision making to transform a group or business, take it in a new direction or surpass previous limits.
- A Leadership Degree equips you to determine and pursue your personal and professional life vision.

Potential Job Titles

Supervisor
Frontline Manager
Team Leader
Business Assistant
Human Resources Specialist

Leadership Studies Course Listing

- Effective Dialogue
- Resolving Conflict, Building Relationships and Negotiating
- Creative Leadership
- Systems Thinking
- Public Systems
- Private Systems
- Political Leadership
- Ethnical Leadership
- Group Dynamics

All majors begin with General Education courses such as English, Math, and Social Sciences.

Complete course descriptions are available at:
www.QuietRevolution.org

Skills Gained

Communications

Critical Thinking and Analysis

Professional and Personal Effectiveness

Team Building

Conflict Resolution

Develop and Implement Strategic action

"If you haven't been to school for a long period of time, they welcome you in...Now that I've tasted it, I thrive for more education. It's an ongoing journey."

