get involved!

- Join our Women’s Prison Team. We rely on female volunteers to help teach/lead our WOMEN’S FRESH START COURSE on Tuesdays 1-2:30pm and our WOMEN’S DISCOVERY GROUP on Thursdays 7-8pm at Chester County Correctional Center. (Contact Michelle Manthey for more information.)
- Become a mentor to a man or woman in Chester County Prison who is returning to your community. Attend a RETURNING HEARTS’ PRISON & REENTRY MENTOR TRAINING to get started. (Contact Michelle Manthey for more information.)
- Donate GRACE BAGS or items needed for them to those starting over in our community (see our website for details).

As a faith-based ministry, we rely on financial partners, as do our missionaries. Donate securely via:

- PAYPAL ON OUR WEBSITE—be sure to designate your gift to New Mornings, a missionary, or a specific need under “Write a note.”
- ELECTRONIC FUNDS TRANSFER—email us to request the form and more information.
- PERSONAL CHECK—make payable & mail to: LTM, PO Box 29, Coatesville, PA 19320. Designate your gift to “New Mornings” or to a specific need in the memo line. If for a missionary, write their name on a separate piece of paper.

REENTRY SERVICES

transformed life

IS A STEPPING STONE TO A transformed community.

The mission of New Mornings Reentry Services is to break the cycle of incarceration in our community through the transforming love of Jesus Christ. We provide information, practical services, and mentoring to incarcerated and previously incarcerated people, offering hope and help where possible. We also connect members of the Body of Christ with our clients to better meet individual needs and to edify our community as a whole.

prison bible study

Just as in our church body, many incarcerated come from abusive, addictive and/or dysfunctional family backgrounds. Others have experienced traumatic, life-altering events or simply made poor choices. And just like us, they have learned to suppress their pain in unhealthy ways. Prison is an adult “time out.” It takes away the constant noise of the world, allowing its residents to see the consequences of their poor choices and reflect on what and WHO really matters.

New Mornings is privileged to minister inside Chester County Correctional Center. A team of staff and volunteers lead our weekly WOMEN’S DISCOVERY GROUP on Thursday nights, which focuses on God’s Word in a small group environment. We foster caring relationships with those who attend through ONE-ON-ONE MENTORSHIP and seek to continue those relationships when they return home—where they must learn to balance the noise of the world with their new found clarity in Christ.

life skills course

In addition to our Women’s Discovery Group, a separate team under New Mornings offers FRESH START, an 8-week course offered Tuesday afternoons at Chester County Correctional Center (the work release building). Through practical guidance, prayer, and foundational faith-based principles demonstrated in Scripture, this course teaches those who are incarcerated to think differently. It also prepares them to make positive choices when they return to their families and communities.

encouragement in writing

Prison takes its residents back to a time before text messaging, where personal mail is TREASURED. Knowing this, Scripture-based CARDS OF ENCOURAGEMENT are an integral part of our ministry. We send them weekly those who attend any of our groups. We also send them to inmates incarcerated in other prisons when requested. For some, this is the only mail they receive.

grace in times of need

Through the generosity of local churches, we offer MEN’S & WOMEN’S GRACE BAGS to our clients when they are released from prison or come to our office for assistance. These reusable bags include toiletry items, a devotional and a few clothing or luxury items to demonstrate God’s grace and provision while starting fresh.

angel tree

At Christmas, we partner with local churches and the Chaplain’s office to provide gifts to the children of women at the Chester County Prison through our version of ANGEL TREE. We encourage personal interaction between sponsors and our Angel Tree families, and make sure that each family receives a Bible for their child(ren), in addition to gifts.

mentor training

68% of ex-offenders return to prison within just 3-4 years. The barriers they face are overwhelming. Having a mentor to serve as a friend, accountability partner, guide and cheerleader can be key to a successful reentry. Recognizing this, we’ve partnered with ReTURNing Hearts under the Chaplain’s office to develop and offer PRISON & REENTRY MENTOR TRAINING to all religious volunteers at Chester County Prison as a first step toward addressing this need.

We are also actively researching and preparing for additional trainings on needed areas, such as, the effects of trauma, maintaining healthy boundaries and addiction, to better equip our volunteers.
